

REACH Compliance Statement

Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006 – (Reviewed June 2025)

Diamond Electronics Ltd fully acknowledges and complies with the European Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006, concerning the Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and Restriction of Chemicals (REACH), which entered into force on 1st June 2007.

As a distributor and importer of electronic components, we operate downstream in the supply chain and do not manufacture, formulate, or chemically alter any products. We supply components as specified by our customers, based on original manufacturer data and declarations.

In accordance with Article 33 of the REACH Regulation, we are committed to ensuring that any information received from our suppliers regarding the presence of Substances of Very High Concern (SVHCs) is communicated to our customers in a timely and transparent manner, especially where the concentration exceeds the 0.1% w/w threshold in any article.

We maintain a proactive compliance process, including:

- Regular monitoring of updates published by the European Chemicals Agency (ECHA).
- Verification of supplier declarations for regulated substances.
- Immediate notification to affected customers if any SVHC above the threshold is identified in supplied products.

While customers remain ultimately responsible for assuring REACH compliance for their PCB assembly, as this falls outside of our direct scope, Diamond Electronics, on prior agreement, will assist in the provision of REACH compliance information for the supplied parts and assemblies.

As of the latest review in June 2025, the current list of 250 SVHCs is available on the ECHA website and may be accessed here:

Diamond Electronics Ltd is not aware of any non-compliance or breaches within our current supply chain under the scope of REACH. Should regulatory requirements change, or any risk arise, we will act promptly to assess impact and inform our customers.
